What is Street food?

Street food is an essential part of the Thailand experience. Wherever you go in the city, food stalls are plentiful, and you will find a high concentration of them in busy areas, which means you can go to the same place every night and have a different choice of meals. Some even open around the clock. Vendors can be seen busily stir-frying in an ancient wok, pounding papaya salad, grilling meat skewers, or boiling noodles. At Thai Zappz, we brought a few selections of favorite street food from Thailand to Kansas for your delightful experience. Dare to be adventurous!
